2023 Detachment Profile

Pincher Creek Provincial Detachment

February 27, 2024

Pincher Creek Provincial Detachment

The information in this report is based on Line 1 UCR scoring only. This differs from the standard monthly reports that count all lines of scoring. Counting all lines of scoring provides a more complete picture of the criminal activity in a given jurisdiction. The move to the Line 1 UCR method to calculate metrics is due to inconsistencies in PROS scoring among several Detachments.

Criminal Code per Regular Member (CC/RM)

Criminal code incidents per Regular Member refers to the proportion of criminal code incidents to the number of police officers.

Crime Severity Index (CSI)

The Crime Severity Index tracks changes in the severity of police-reported crime by accounting for both the amount of crime reported by police in a given jurisdiction and the relative seriousness of these crimes. It tells us not only how much crime is coming to the attention of police, but also about the seriousness of that crime.

By design, the specific Crime Severity Index value in a given jurisdiction depends on its mix of crimes and their relative seriousness. If a jurisdiction has a high proportion of less serious, and hence lower-weighted, offences, it will have a lower Index value. Conversely, a jurisdiction with a high proportion of more serious crimes will have a higher Index value. The base line for measurement of the CSI is 100.

Detachments with a population less 5,000 should compare CSI rates with caution. A few serious files could cause large increases the overall CSI. The 2023 CSI will be published in July or August, 2024.

Criminal Code Cases per 1,000 (CC/1000)

The traditional crime rate is expressed as a rate per 1,000 population. The crime rate is calculated by summing all Criminal Code incidents and dividing by the population.

Police to Population Ratio (PPR)

The police to population ratio (PPR) quantifies the relationship between the number of police officers and the total population served.

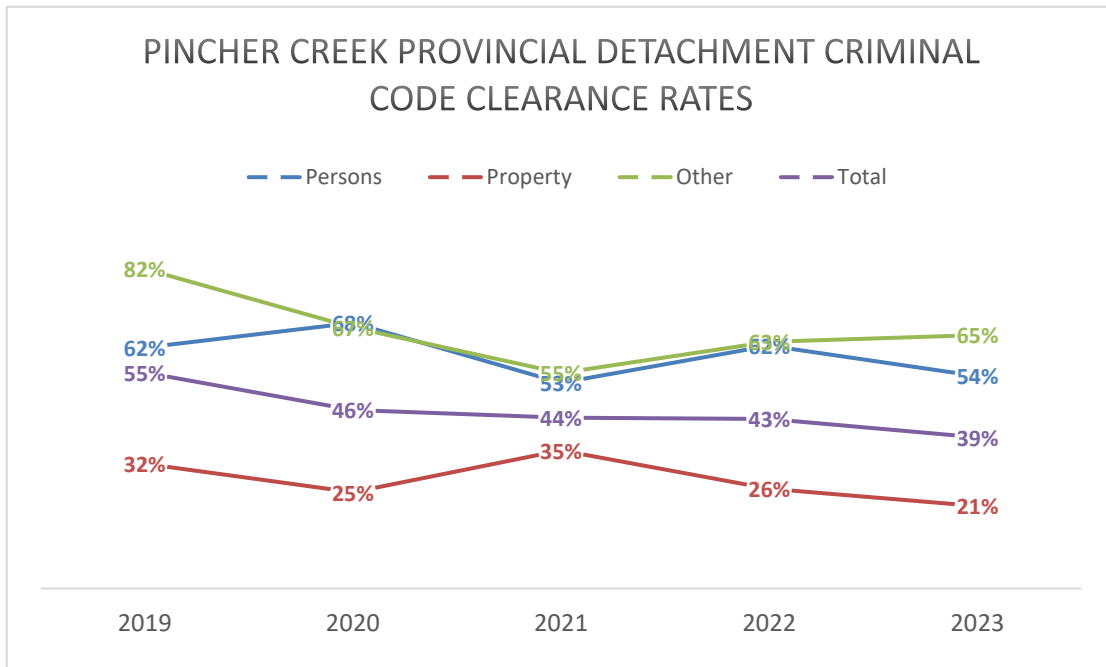

Pincher Creek Provincial Detachment

Clearance Rates

When a police investigation leads to the identification of a suspect against whom a charge could be laid, then that incident can be cleared. Criminal incidents can either be “cleared by charge” or “cleared otherwise”. When an information is laid against the suspect (i.e., the person is formally charged), then from a statistical point of view the related actual incident can be cleared by charge. In cases where the police do not lay an information, even though they have identified a suspect and have enough evidence to support the laying of such, the incident is cleared otherwise.
